

Festival of the Hill

Sunday, June 28

Attend any of the activities, explore an interpretive trail, go on a scavenger hunt, or fly a kite from the top of the hill! Come for any or all of the day. All events are free and open to the public. We hope to see you on the hill!

Noon

Bring your own family picnic

Music by Under the Tree Music Company

Marcy Gregoire's Under the Tree Music Company shows are nothing short of outrageous. Her unique style and electric charisma grab the crowd, and don't let go. The audience, especially the children, become the "music company," and Marcy brings a wide variety of instruments for the children to play, including a cello, violin, and guitar.

1 pm

Storytelling with Davis Bates

Davis is a delightful and engaging storyteller and has been charming audiences for over twenty years. His performances include a mixture of family, Native American, international and regional stories and songs. They speak of empowerment, history, spirit and the environment.

3 - 5 pm Reading the Forested Landscape

A walk with Tom Wessels

BEEC's fields and forests have a dynamic history that includes wild weather, sugaring, clearing for agriculture, and regrowth of forest. Tom Wessels, ecologist, will lead a walk to interpret this story. His book, Reading the Forested Landscape, A Natural History of New England, is one of the most thumbed volumes in the BEEC library. On this walk you will learn to recognize the clues that can be used to solve landscape mysteries, and find out more about the past of the place we call Heifer Hill.

5-7 pm Bar-B-Q

Enjoy Bob's famous barbecued chicken and more. A selection of beverages will be served, you are invited to bring your own beer or wine.

Music by Easy Street

For over twenty years Mark Trichka and Lisa Brande, have been playing swing, bluegrass, cajun and zydeco, rockabilly and honkytonk and all manner of popular, sometimes obscure, but always interesting music, on fiddle, mandolins, guitars and voices.
